Please note: This is a farmers market selling only food and healthy living products either grown or made by the vendor; no craft, art or jewelry products are part of our offerings. Re-selling is not allowed. Additionally, in order to ensure the success of our vendors, it is our policy to limit direct competition within our market. Thus, with the exception of produce, we do not allow duplicate vendors in the market. If your product is too close to a current vendor's, or an Alamo Quarry Market tenant, in nature, we will keep this form on file and contact you should an opening occur in the future.
